Guardsmen Rebuffed On Blood Donor Plan

Nearly 40 members of the regimental headquarters company, 116th armored cavalry, Idaho national guard, want to donate blood when the Red Cross bloodmobile comes here Dec. 18, but can't because bloodmobile officials refuse to stay open after hours for them, according to Capt. William B. Thomas.

The captain said members of his company volunteered 100 per cent to donate blood if they could be certain it would be sent for saving the lives of wounded servicemen in Korea. Captain Thomas said he found Mrs. Ruby Connelley, Red Cross executive secretary here, enthusiastic, when he contacted her Wednesday.

* * * *

She said local volunteer workers would be glad to help but arrangements would have to be made with the regional blood center at Boise. She telephoned Don Dougherty, bloodmobile assistant administrator.

The captain's original plan was to have the bloodmobile come to the national guard armory between 8 and 10 p.m. Dec. 18, regular drill hours for the company. Dougherty said this would be impossible because the bloodmobile staff is paid only to work from 8 a.m. to 5 p. m.

Captain Thomas next suggested he bring his company to the Legion hall by truck after holding a formation at the armory at 8 p.m. Dougherty said this would be impossible, too. Many of the guardsmen are unable to get off from their work during bloodmobile hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The captain said this raised the question of whether the transfusions are given in Korea only between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and whether Korean servicemen are fighting only between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Commenting Thursday, Mrs. Connelley said she believes Dougherty's real reason for refusal was not to overwork the bloodmobile staff. She pointed out the bloodmobile has to return to Boise the same night it finishes here.

She said the 10 a.m. opening hour is set because it takes two hours to set up equipment. It takes at least an hour to pack it up again at the end of the bloodtaking, she added.

The bloodmobile brought a staff of 12 when it came here July 3. It has a staff of 10 now. This time it has asked for at least 34 local volunteer workers in seeking a 200-pint goal.

In other comment, Captain Thomas pointed out the community service performed during the past

Schedule Gets Blame in Red Cross Refusal

BOISE, Dec. 7 (AP)—A schedule made weeks in advance—not strict adherence to an eight-hour day—is the reason the Red Cross bloodmobile can't take blood from national guardsmen at Twin Falls the night of Dec. 18, Dr. E. P. Sestero, director of the regional blood center, said today.

Delay Suggested

Dr. Sestero said the Red Cross would be glad to arrange its schedule to take the blood at night the next time it is in Twin Falls.

He said the schedule was made out six to eight weeks in advance so local chapters could arrange for donors. The bloodmobile, he said, is scheduled to be in Boise Dec. 10.

Explains Work

"It requires about two hours to set up the unit and two to take it down," he said. "If the staff completes work in Twin Falls at 6 p.m., it should have the bloodmobile ready to leave at 8 p.m., and arrive in Boise about 11 p.m.

"We can't change the whole schedule around now to take care of the national guardsmen."

Local Safety Unit to Hold Jan. 3 Ballot

Four directors and officers of the Twin Falls Safety council will be elected at the annual meeting Jan. 3, Dr. F. J. McAtee, president, announced at a brief council session Thursday.

McAtee appointed O. W. Lindemood to head a nominations committee with instructions to select at least eight persons to be voted on.

Ballots will be mailed to all paid up members of the council or they can vote at the January meeting. The new and holdover directors will select their chairman and council officers the same night.

In addition to the election, a special safety program is being planned for the annual meeting, according to McAtee.

Directors whose terms are expiring are Frank McIntyre, Lindemood, George Wirsching and A. W. Morgan. The latter resigned when he moved from Twin Falls.

Holdover directors are McAtee, W. G. Walstra, H. W. Ireland, Frank Teitelbaum, Chicago attorney.

Clarence Ford and M. Z. Stansberry. Directors are elected for a three-year term with four new directors taking office each year.

Council members present Thursday informally discussed the recent valley-wide safety conference with particular emphasis on continuing interest by helping to promote the growth of safety councils in this area. McAtee said the Twin Falls council would lend every assistance to other towns organizing councils and would provide speakers when available.

The council also considered plans for boosting attendance at local meetings and will appoint a committee in the near future to begin planning programs for the next year.

Tax Officer Fails To Appear After Hearing Ordered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Charles Oliphant, after demanding an immediate public hearing by house tax investigators, failed to appear today at a committee session called to hear him. He sent word he wished to delay his appearance several days."

Oliphant, 42, resigned two days ago as chief legal officer of the scandal-hit bureau of internal revenue.

Oliphant blasted at the "scurrilous charges" linking his name to an alleged "clique" of Washington officials a witness had sworn he was told was on the lookout for "soft touches."

This story came from Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago attorney.

Attorney General McGrath ordered yesterday that the whole matter be placed before a federal grand jury. He said:

"I have issued instructions this morning that all the testimony, reports and investigative material of the House subcommittee relating to the Teitelbaum-Menkin-Nathan-Naster allegations be obtained immediately.

"We have . . . requested that this matter be presented to a grand jury within the next 10 days."

Fire Damages Coca Cola Plant

Fire of undetermined origin damaged six trucks and the interior and roof in the southwest corner of the Coca Cola Bottling plant, 163 Third avenue south, early Friday. Without benefit of insurance company estimates, W. E. Bogard, part-owner, estimated damage at about $10,000. The fire was believed to have started in a corner room or this truck. U.N. Makes Abrupt About-Face On Issue of Troop Withdrawals

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 7 (AP)—The United Nations proposed a new truce inspection program today and, in an abrupt about-face, promised to discuss withdrawal of troops from Korea later in the armistice talks.

The communists tentatively rejected the three-point U.N. inspection program at a truce subcommittee meeting, but agreed to study it further.

The reds also aidestepped at least three new, separate demands for an answer to the allied request for appointment of a second subcommittee to begin immediate discussion of an exchange of war prisoners.

The communist delegates said they had forwarded the proposal to North Korean Lieut.-Gen. Nam Il, senior communist truce delegate, and would relay his reply at "the proper time."

A U.N. communique nevertheless reported that "progress was made, however slight" toward an ultimate agreement and carrying out a truce.

It said both sides had agreed that all armed forces would cease fire within 24 hours of the effective date of an armistice, that all armed forces would withdraw from the demilitarized buffer zone within 72 hours, and that only military police shall be permitted in the buffer zone.

Meanwhile, a communist newsman suggested that fewer than 5,000 Americans may come back from communist captivity in Korea.

The communists so far have disclosed the names of only 174 American war prisoners. However, the U.S. defense department says 10,865 Americans are missing in Korea.

Storms Stop Korean War Jet Fighting

SEOUL, Dec. 7 (AP)—A few allied jets hunted unsuccessfully through storm clouds today for communist MIG-15s in hopes of extending their record breaking 11-day series of victories over the red jets.

The weather was so bad over Korea the U. S. fifth air force was held to only 103 flights up to 6 p.m.

But neither rain nor cold kept communist infantrymen from making small-scale stabs at the allies along the central front.

The reds launched five small probing attacks southwest of Kumsong on the center of the 145-mile Korean front. United Nations outposts beat back four of these stabs.

Chill rains struck the west. The sloppy allied held little Gibraltar and other shell-torn hills turned to slippery mud.

Snow blanketed the foxholes of U. S. infantrymen perched on the towering ridges dominating the eastern front.

Deep behind allied lines, the South Korean army tightened its hold on the 6,000-foot Shiri mountains but did not find the 1,500 guerrillas it had expected to trap.

South Korean generals said a new sweep of valleys and lesser peaks might turn up more fugitives.

Area Youth's Post Goes to Eastern Man

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 7 (AP)—An eastern seaboard skier has been named to the U. S. olympic team to replace Jimmy Griffith, 23-year-old Idaho stylist who died yesterday.

William Beck, Kingston, R. I., one of four alternates, will fill the vacancy on the American men's downhill and slalom team, said Dev Jennings, Salt Lake City, representative on the selection committee for that division.

Blood Clot Blamed

Griffith died yesterday in a Salt Lake City hospital, just three days after he broke a leg at the Alta winter resort southwest of here. The cause of death was pulmonary embolism, a blood clot condition resulting from a leg fracture.

"His death is a loss to the sport the whole country will feel," said J. G. (Pony) Vorse, president of the Intermountain Ski association. "Jimmy was the ideal type of competitor which we strive to develop."

Struck Tree

The Ketchum, Ida., youth started his workouts Monday on the Wasatch mountain slopes at Alta. On a downhill turn he struck a tree, receiving a broken leg.

He was one of the nation's most promising young skiers. Griffith had been at Alta with three other olympic team members, Jack Reddish, Darrell Robison and Mrs. Suzy Harris Rytting, all Salt Lake City.

BLOOD GOAL TOPPED

POCATELLO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pocatello topped its goal of 600 pints of blood during a two-day stay of the bloodmobile here, ending yesterday.

Warning

"The barometer goes up, so the thermometer goes down and the skies clear," explained the weatherman. "But don't—put away your shovels, a little precipitation is due next week."

That seemed like a mighty positive statement to the AP reporter, but this forecast backed it up:

"Brief periods of precipitation Tuesday and Wednesday. Temperatures slightly below normal, ranging from 15-30 in the mornings to 25-40 in the afternoons." (Probably).

Solons Assail Trivial Waste Of Air Force

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The senate armed services subcommittee on preparedness reported today it had found many instances of "trivial waste" at six air force bases.

"To tolerate these minor wastes is to sanction inevitable large-scale waste," the group's 34th report declared. "The days of luxury are over for our military establishment."

The subcommittee was set up soon after the Korean war broke out, to check on the nation's mobilization program.

"Glaring Instances"

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson, D. Tex., said subcommittee investigators had found "what appeared to be other more glaring instances of waste" at other bases.

The six bases are Langley near Norfolk, Va.; Carswell near Ft. Worth, Tex.; Lowry near Denver, Colo.; Mather near Sacramento, Calif.; March near Riverside, Calif., and Kessler near Biloxi, Miss.

The report, the group's first devoted to a survey of a number of air force bases, listed these as samples of waste:

Food Overstocked

Overstocking food at some of the bases.

Substitution of "elaborate . . . costly" dining hall furniture for serviceable equipment.

Requests for a lighted baseball diamond, a golf course and other "lavish recreational facilities" at Mather.

Use of many able-bodies men in "chair corps" assignments which limited service personnel or WAFs (enlisted women) could fill.

Improper assignment of expensively trained pilots.

Appeal Dropped, Driver Pays Fine

Clyde Slater, Filer, convicted by a police court jury Nov. 21 for failure to stop at the scene of an accident, withdrew his appeal to district court Friday and paid a fine of $50 and $6 costs.

Slater's attorney, Arthur E. Babbel, appeared for Slater and a $100 bond was returned.

In Carey, Justice of the Peace William Briggs fined Mrs. Lavaun Coates $15 and costs for passing a school bus while it was stopped to let children out. The complaint was signed by Morgan Sparks, bus driver.

Balloon Parade "Fine" for Christmas; It's Toyland Outdoors, Says Operator

Phillip Sonneborn, who arrived here Friday to check clearance on the route of the giant balloon parade scheduled at 3 p.m. Saturday, pooh-poohed the idea it has no connection with Christmas. The parade is being brought here by the Chamber of Commerce as the highlight of its Christmas attractions.

"Why, we do 90 per cent of our business during the Christmas season," he explained, "We just bring toyland out on the street—the parade has as much connection with Christmas as toys do, and our dragon is a smiling dragon, not a scary one."

The 30-unit parade has four specific Christmas units in addition to a wide variety of nursery rhyme characters, animals, musical instruments and others of particular interest to children.

One of the balloons is a Christmas stocking 12 feet high. There's a nonballoon novelty, a Christmas tree nine feet high, and costume novelty of Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer. And there's a balloon of Mrs. Santa Claus inspecting the reindeer before they begin their long trip.

Among others are balloons of Bugs Bunny, lollipops and sugar canes and a snowman. The high school band will be in the parade and 125 high school youths will pull the huge balloons, under arrangements made by the chamber with Clark Whitehead, Boys club president.

Sonneborn said the balloons are pulled on low-slung trailers, made of hinged boards. The 10 by 14-foot trailers have wheels eight inches high. The biggest balloon is Noah's Ark, which weighs 400 pounds. It is pulled on three trailers.

An air pressure of only one pound is enough to keep the balloons plump. Parade personnel find days

Two Plants Hit by Fires In Half Day

Two fires of undetermined origin in less than 12 hours resulted in thousands of dollars of damage in Twin Falls Friday. The latest blaze broke out at 12:30 p.m. at the Rogers Sheet Metal works, 223 Fourth avenue west, less than 12 hours after fire damaged six trucks and the interior of the Coca Cola Bottling plant, 163 Third avenue south. The fire at the sheet metal works broke out while all employes were out to lunch. The bottling plant blaze was discovered at 1:45 a.m.

The fire in the Rogers Sheet Metal works was brought under control at 1:15 p.m. Friday after it had caused considerable damage to the metal works, the building and a room next door in which the Twin Falls Lumber company had some meterial stored. The material belonging to the lumber company was damaged by water and the fire ate away the roof of the structure.

John Rogers, owner of the Rogers Metal Works said he could not give an estimate of the damage to his equipment. Most of it is made of metal and it will be some time before an estimate can be made, he said.

Roof Sagging

Fireman managed to keep the fire from consuming the roof of the main structure but it was covered with water and sagging when the fire was extinguished. Sides of the building, which is owned by Jack Kimes, are made largely of metal.

Firemen said they had no idea of how the fire started. They found the metal covered frame building fully enveloped in flames when they arrived. Six lines of 2½-inch hose were laid to battle the flames which soon gave way to clouds of smoke.

Endangered by Wind

Four firemen were used in fighting the blaze itself, while two others gave protection to the adjacent lumber yards. The wind direction was such that it would have blown the flames toward the lumber yards if the fire had not been brought under control quickly.

Rogers said his equipment and materials were covered by insurance and that he believed that had structure to cover the building. The sheet metal shop machinery was damage both by fire and water. Building materials stored next door were damaged principally by water.

$10,000 Estimate Set

W. E. Gogard, part owner of the bottling plant, estimated damage at $10,000 without benefit of insurance company estimates. Mr. and Mrs. Bogard own a half interest in the Twin Falls concern, the other half being owned by Tyrus R. Cobb, famous baseball figure. Cobb is in California. Some of his duck decoys were destroyed.

The building and trucks were covered fully by insurance. The blaze was believed to have started in a storage room over the south truck. One of the two largest trucks was destroyed while the other was damaged extensively. The other four smaller trucks in the building were damaged by smoke or scorched. Firemen removed them from the building.

Damage to other equipment would

196 X-Rayed

BUHL, Dec. 7—One hundred-and ninety-six persons were X-rayed at the mobile unit here Thursday. The unit arrived from Filer and was in operation three and one-half hours.

The unit will remain in Buhl through Wednesday and then will go to Kimberly for operation Thursday and Friday.

Study of Buhl Report Slated By Governor

BOISE, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gov. Len Jordan has said he would study a report left in his office by Hiram Burns, dismissed chief of police at Buhl.

Meanwhile, Burns said in Marsing that he intended to visit the governor soon to personally explain his side of the dismissal.

Burns conferred with law enforcement commissioner Wayne Summers and State Police Supt. A. P. Bundersen Saturday, but neither would comment on details of the conversation.

Copy of Letter

Burns left in the governor's office a carbon copy of a letter dated Nov. 16 and addressed to Jordan. The governor said he had not seen the original and as far as he knew no members of his staff had either.

"The conditions here (at Buhl) are very bad," Burns wrote. "There seems to be no respect for law and order. Young children are permitted to play around gambling tables, visit pool halls and bar rooms openly and without restrictions."

[illegible] these conditions [illegible] Burns said [illegible] places by force [illegible] to be in a position to [illegible] police men assist [illegible] move."

The report also criticized Burns' [illegible] handling a theft case and a list of arrests made by the city police department.

Bunderson said that Burns had not applied for a position on the state police force.

Store Owners Get Warnings On Beer Sale

Grocery store operators were warned Friday by Police Chief Howard Gillette against selling beer to juveniles. Chief Gillette warns officers are going to crack down on violators. Owners following the practice are taking a chance on losing their beer licenses and may be arrested for contributing to the delinquency of minors, he added.

The police chief believes the stores are the biggest source of supply for beer consumed by juveniles and feels many stores are selling beer to juveniles. Gillette believes most other sources of the beer have been "pretty well plugged up."

The police chief warns operators that beer cannot be sold to persons under 20, regardless of whether they tell store personnel the beer is for their parents. This includes the sale of beer along with groceries. Beer must be sold separately, provided they do not handle beer.

The story that the beer is being purchased for parents does not excuse the violation. "This is just a stock excuse used by children to get beer," Chief Gillette pointed out. He says if he persons making the sales will follow the children they will see them get into cars with other juveniles and drive away.

Chief Gillette points out this is a general warning to all stores selling beer for consumption of the premises. He says violators will be brought into court.

Jordan Willing to Talk With Area Officials on Health Unit

BOISE, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gov. Len Jordan said yesterday he would welcome meeting with Magic Valley county commissioners to discuss the state public health department.

Commissioners of south central Idaho counties recently adopted a resolution urging an investigation of the health department.

The governor said "all records and reports of the public health department are open for inspection."

He added that the federal government has asked Idaho's federal aid participation for the 1951-1953 biennium by more than $400,000 and as a result, counties will have to help make up most of the difference or undergo a cutback in public health services.

The governor said nearly $2,000,000 made available for the 1949-1951 biennium, while only a little more than $1,500,000 is available for the current fiscal period.

State appropriations for the health department were increased about $75,000 by the 1951 Idaho legislature, the governor said.

The governor said he would be glad to meet with the commissioners and go into an intensive study of the fiscal problems of the health department.

SOME CONFIDENTIAL

Commenting on the governor's statement that all records and reports of the public health department are open for inspection, personnel at the south central district health unit pointed out [illegible] medical records, particularly with reference to venereal disease, remain confidential.

Economists at Farm Meeting Discuss 1952

BURLEY, Dec. 7—The demand for farm products as well as for most everything else, is expected to continue strong in 1952, according to outlook information discussed at a recent meeting at Burley.

Those participating in the meeting from Cassia county were J. Osmar Lowe, PMA secretary; Bertrand Gardner, FHA supervisor; Glenn L. Bodily, county extension agent; and J. Weldon Beck, William Darrington, Whitney Hale, Gerald Howard, L. A. Gillette and Otis Orton, veteran instructor.

Economists Attend

The meeting was held by the university extension service. Assisting with the meeting were Robert W. Wilcox and Virgil Kennedy, extension economists, Boise.

The increase in demand for farm products is expected because increased defense spending is causing employment and greater income. At the same time, increased defense needs are reducing the amounts of available consumer goods, particularly durable goods and those requiring scarce materials. This should channel some additional consumer spending toward farm products, the economists said.

Record Production

Record agricultural production this year and probably next year, together with price controls, indicate that the average prices to be received by Idaho and United States farmers in 1952 for farm commodities may not differ much from 1951, they added.

Cash receipts from farm marketings may show some increase next year because marketings are expected to be somewhat heavier. Production costs also will rise above the 1951 level. That will hold the realized new income of U. S. farmers in 1952 to about the same level as this year.

Man Leaves City After Sentencing

RUPERT, Dec. 7—After imposing a 30-day and a 60-day jail sentence against Hartley Wren, Orofino, Police Judge Archie Nisbet suspended both sentences on the provision Wren leave Rupert.

The 30-day sentence was for vagrancy and the other was for petty larceny. Wren pleaded guilty to the former Thursday afternoon and to the latter Friday morning.

Wren was arrested Thursday along with Tony Songer, Helena, Mont., and William Goodwin, Osgood, Mont. Each of the three was charged with vagrancy and each was given a 30-day sentence.

Police officials found a suitcase of clothing, flashlights, wrenches, screw drivers, a coat, a gabardine shirt, a flaming red shirt and knobs in the possession of Wren and Goodwin. Goodwin admitted possession of the articles and Wren pleaded guilty to taking them.

Suit Filed

BURLEY, Dec. 7—Complaint was filed Thursday in the district court here by Fred W. Allen, Utah Oil company distributor, against Elbert Lloyd.

Allen is asking for $585.45 plus interest on a bill he claims has been due since Feb. 27, 1950. The plaintiff is represented by Herman E. Bedke.

Blood Donor Project Killed By Red Cross

five years by the national guard, some of it for the Red Cross and for which the Red Cross received credit.

He said he was referring to national guard "weasels" being brought here during a hard winter to get food, fuel and medical supplies past Robertson in a Red Cross disaster relief program. He pointed out when deer hunters were marooned by early snow in the Rock creek area, national guard trucks and men were used to rescue them.

"These kids served without pay," the captain emphasized, and said money for gasoline had to come from the unit's training budget and was not reimbursed either time.

"When a national emergency is called," said Captain Thomas, "the national guard will be among the first called—until then we'll be giving service to the community."

Another member of his company said Thursday as far as the blood donor volunteers are concerned, the project is off because of the Red Cross action.

All Share Blame In U. S. Scandal, NAM Chief Says

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—The entire nation must share responsibility for an atmosphere allowing political graft and corruption to flourish, William H. Ruffin, outgoing president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today.

In a speech at the windup session of the NAM's 56th congress of industry, Ruffin said:

"It is not enough to stand aghast at revelations of mink coats on government secretaries. It is not enough to recoil at exposures of internal revenue scandals and corruption in RFC loans, to be ravolled by nation-wide crime syndicates protected by prominent politicians, or shocked by basketball bribery.

"If we are true to our American selves, we will look behind the sensational headlines and see how far we have fallen."

Youth Problems Are Club's Topic

RUPERT, Dec. 7—Juvenile delinquency was the topic at Rotary luncheon meeting Wednesday. Prosecuting Attorney Sherman Bellwood discussed the current juvenile cases in probate court.

"Most people have the idea," he said, "that all of the cases involve only immoral conduct. Such is not the case. Petty thefts, failure to attend school and disobedience are common in addition to immoral conduct."

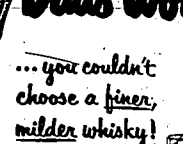

Bellwood added that the juveniles involved in the recent round-up were between the ages of 12 and 17 and came from all types of homes. As part of the program Ken Tyrer told of a recent tour he made of the industrial school at St. Anthony.

not be known until power was restored, Mrs. Bogard said. She was also uncertain about stock loss. Some extract and other ingredients was believed lost.

Firemen reported using about 1,200 feet of hose in fighting the blaze. They also believed the front part of the roof would have to be replaced.

Two tanks of carbon dioxide were in the corner of the building in front of the most seriously damaged truck. It could have put the fire out if the tanks were open, firemen pointed out.

Evacuation Work Started for 12,000 Island Refugees

MANILA, Dec. 7 (AP)—Philippines naval patrol vessels today began evacuating 12,000 refugees from Camiguin island and the fury of Hibok-Hibok's erupting volcano.

The known dead from Tuesday's eruption rose to 266. Official estimates say another 500 are buried under lava and ashes.

The volcano blew a continuous rain of hot ashes over the northern end of the island, sending more frightened residents fleeing to the southeastern coast.

The naval evacuation began at the overcrowded southeast coastal town of Mahinog. Refugees are being taken to nearby Mindanao island in the central Philippines.

About 200 persons were reported isolated in one north coast village cut off by the flow of lava.

Monkey in Tree Causes Long Series of Unusual Accidents

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 7 (U.P.)—A monkey in a tree in Ben Grenald's yard started the whole thing.

Policeman John Ward was dancing around under the tree trying to lure the monkey down with bananas. It was such a funny sight, Grenald's wife, Selma, called him up at his drug store and told him to come home and see it.

"It's a riot," she said. "You'll die."

It was after all the neighborhood kids gathered around, whooping and laughing, that the Grenald boy—2-year-old Douglas—got into the red ant hill. Grenald dunked him in a tub to wash the ants off.

Then they went back to watch the monkey—and that's when the house caught fire. Mrs. Grenald had left a pan of grease on the stove. It set fire to the curtains and woodwork.

Grenald put out the fire, but the smoke made him sick. The maid got sick, too, and went home.

The rats they had used to clean up the mess were put in the washing machine. One of the kids opened the door of the machine. That was how the house was flooded.

Four inches of water was in the kitchen before it was noticed.

Then somebody discovered the monkey was gone. Nobody ever knew what became of that monkey. But he surely was a scream.

Wendell's Doctors Enlarge Facilities

WENDELL, Dec. 7—Wendell physicians announce that work on additional rooms to their offices is nearing completion and will be used jointly for diagnosis and emergency care when St. Valentines' hospital is vacated and the Sisters move to Jerome.

The building occupied by Campbells' appliance store has been extended 40 feet at the back of the building to the alley. This extension will include operating and laboratory rooms for dentist work. The new facilities will include X-ray, electro-cardiograph, basal metabolator, laboratory, oxygen and blood plasma. The expansion and new equipment will permit local physicians to render emergency care and diagnostic tests which the hospital is now doing.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has been appointed to investigate possibilities for use of the hospital once it has been vacated. Charles Gates, president of the chamber, said Wendell is not in favor of the proposed old folks home. Some businessmen have discussed purchasing it for use as an office building.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES
WEST-HOLLIDAY CO., INC.
616 Mallet Street, San Francisco, Calif.

"RED TAPE BRIGADE"

Roscoe Drummond, chief of the Christian Science Monitor's Washington bureau, has found a remarkable twist in the capital. Somebody in government is trying to get something done without creating a new agency to do it.

Specifically, the national security resources board is trying to promote the dispersal of new industry in the United States for safety reasons. Says the board:

"There is no need of a bureau in Washington or elsewhere in the federal government to do this job."

Like a cool wind off the lake, isn't it?

And apparently the effort is meeting with considerable initial success despite the board's almost heretical views. If it works out, maybe others will be inclined toward this unorthodoxy and away from the prevailing notion that you're not in business until you've denuded the capital warehouses of every available desk and have hired people to lean on them.

Yet one shouldn't be too hopeful. Back in 1941, Washington got a lesson like this and printed little.

Top government officials were meeting on the Sunday after Pearl Harbor, desperately concerned with our dwindling stocks of natural rubber. With supplies from the Dutch East Indies cut off, rationing at the earliest possible moment was indicated.

An all-day harangue found veteran officials insisting it would take six months to create a rationing system. They envisioned training a large field force to be dispatched to every corner of the land to operate it.

At this juncture, up spoke a man who was not enmeshed in the Washington tangle:

"I can do it in three weeks."

Nobody believed him, but the matter was so urgent they finally told him to go ahead and see what he could do.

The man was Frank Bane, executive director of the council of state governments, and a sort of minister without portfolio to the 48 governors. He was banking on help from them, and a lot of local people besides.

He got it. Alerted by wire, the governors sprang into action. Volunteers spread out in every town, ferreting out office space, furniture, willing hands to serve on ration boards. With a big map, a set of pins, a telephone and a small headquarters staff, Bane kept tab on the tremendous organization effort. Where pressure was needed, it was applied. A few preliminary regional meetings had helped build up steam.

When the Monday morning deadline for the start of rationing arrived, the set-up was ready. In three weeks the foundation had been laid for a system that was to serve—on a greatly expanded basis—throughout World War II.

You would think this sort of showing would make a dent on the bureaucratic mind, but it doesn't seem to. The red tape brigade, drawing upon an inexhaustible arsenal of unintelligible directives, soon regained control. Jealously it has guarded and enlarged its domain ever since.

All the poor citizen can do is hope that, because it is 10 years later, the story will be different this time and the paper legions of Washington officialdom will be forced to retreat to previously confused positions.

FLEETING DECEMBER

The 1952 calendars are turning up in the mail, and that's a fair sign that 1951 is about to pass on its fleeting way. The time to keep in mind about December is that it's the world's fastest-moving month.

You turn around twice, get trampled in a store buying rush and by that time it's Christmas. You slow down this one day, maybe (all except Mom), and by the time you've recovered from the Christmas feast and exchanged your gifts, it's New Year's Eve. It's in the last fading hours of the day that you suddenly realize that another whole year is gone, and try to figure where it all went. Then, you make your resolutions to try to do better with the hours in 1952.

Maybe you will and maybe you won't but it doesn't hurt you to resolve to. Anyway, it's not New Year's Eve yet, and it's not even Christmas yet, so better hustle on out and get that Christmas shopping done.

Just remember this about December. Even though it has 31 days, it's a short month.

WHO'S CONFUSED?

The Swedes and the Swiss, the two principal neutrals in western Europe and two of the strongest countries in this area, militarily and economically, still give American officials plenty of headaches in arguing why they should stay out of the Atlantic pact and the European army.

After one long, informal conversation with a Swedish official on this subject, an American who had been getting nowhere in his arguments finally said in despair:

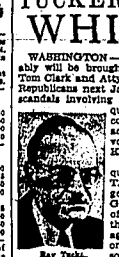

"All right, I agree with you. You have convinced me. I shall immediately prepare a report to my government recommending that the United States follow the Swedish policy. We shall withdraw our forces from Europe and adopt neutralism as our policy.

"Oh, you can't do that!" said the Swede in alarm. "What would become of us?"

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Impeachment proceedings probably will be brought against Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and Atty.-Gen. J. Howard McGrath by Republicans next January as a result of their role in scandals involving allegations of tax manipulations, questionable acceptance of favors, condoning subordinates' unethical actions and failure to investigate vote-getting frauds in a crooked Kansas City election.

Day by day, congressional inquisitors dig into the conduct of T. Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general during the Clark and McGrath regimes at the department of justice. The evidence indicates that the supreme court justice managed "the government's legal office on the basis of political and personal friendship.

Ray Tucker.

CONDUCT—That in itself is no ground for impeachment. Nor is the proved incompetency and laxity of Clark during his service as a cabinet member. But Caudle's behaviour, as well as Clark's admitted approval of many of his subordinates' actions, casts a dim light on the Tenant's own conduct.

For instance, Clark refused to engage in certain oil speculations because of the questionable character of the men behind the promotion. But he did not forbid Caudle, who suggested that Clark "take a filer," from participating in the venture.

SERIOUS—Knowing his assistant's salary, which was $16,000 and his scale of living—mink coats, automobiles, home in exclusive resort, large family to support—Clark must have realized that Caudle would have to borrow money to invest in the oil gamble. As it now develops, Caudle lost his shirt but has not repaid the money he borrowed for the wildcat operation.

But the most serious offense linked to the former attorney general by Caudle's testimony is the successful attempt to block an FBI investigation of widespread ballot-box frauds in the Democratic congressional primary in Kansas City in 1946.

This was the contest in which President Truman demanded the defeat of former Rep. Roger Slaughter because the Missouri Democrat, as a member of house rules committee, had opposed the fair deal program.

EXEMPT—When the U. S. district attorney and former Attorney-General Clark failed to act on complaints of crooked voting, which included registration of dead men and non-residents, Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star rounded up such conclusive evidence that he forced a grand jury investigation. It resulted in a few indictments of small fry.

Somebody blocked a thorough inquiry and prosecution, and the hysterical Caudle, who now is implicating all his old friends and superiors, points the finger at Judge Clark.

Eventually, the impounded fraudulent ballots, which of themselves were proof of election law violations, were stolen from the Kansas City courthouse on the same night President Truman was sleeping only two blocks away at a local hotel.

The operation of the statute of limitations, resulting from Clark's failure to move in, made the crooked highertups exempt from prosecution.

IGNORAMUS—It should also be noted that the defilement of the primary occurred in river wards under the control of the Pendergast heirarchy, which first gave President Truman his start in the White House.

Curious congressmen also want to know why Clark named Caudle as head of the tax division of the department of justice, in view of the latter's admission that he was an utter ignoramus on the question of taxes. He never had handled a tax case in private law, or never made out a return for anybody except himself, he admits.

In view of the complexities of these statutes, Caudles assignment may be due to Clark's general incompetency at the department of justice, or to other reasons, is the belief of several members of the King investigating committee.

WITNESSES—Several witnesses have been suggested because of the understanding that they could throw light on this whole subject. With respect to the failure to investigate or prosecute the vote frauds, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover could give plenty of information. But he has never been questioned by congressional investigators.

Members of the tax court of the United States, which hears tax disputes in civil rather than noncriminal cases, would be able to inform the King group of their irritation over the manner in which government claims against individual and corporate taxpayers have been presented carelessly or improperly.

PECULIAR—Attorney-General McGrath, whose active and detailed management of the department of justice has been marred by his belief that his present post was only a stepping-stone to an appointment to the next supreme court vacancy, has run this office much as Clark did. But his approval of certain Caudle improprieties strike King members as peculiar in the government's top legal officer.

He okayed a Caudle trip to Italy that involved a side job on behalf of two wine merchants involved in exchange difficulties with Italian banks. Caudle never has repaid the $2,000 that financed this extralegal mission. McGrath also approved Caudle's acceptance of a $5,000 commission on the sale of a plane to a private sleuth for two men under indictment of tax violations.

Committee members wonder why a "private eye" should go shopping for an airplane at the department of justice.

IMPEACHMENT—Belief of guilt is not implied by impeachment action. It simply means that congress believes that the conduct of the officials involved merits examination. A resolution of impeachment is first referred to the house judiciary committee, which holds hearings. If it reports favorably on the proposal, it must be submitted to the full house for action. House approval then leads to a trial by the senate.

No decision on the Clark-McGrath impeachment will be made until Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts returns from his 'round-the-world trip. He is expected home about November 22, but he will not reach Washington until the first week in January.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

WEISER'S HELLS CANYON VOTE.

Although South Idaho business and agriculture presents a reasonably united front against Hells Canyon the objectors are now confronted with a contrary vote by the Weiser Chamber of Commerce, which on a secret ballot endorsed the proposed federal dam by 39 to 3 with 54 opposed to taking a stand on the issue.

Why do Weiser businessmen think differently than their colleagues in other South Idaho cities? Presumably because Weiser is close enough to the dam to receive a substantial money benefit from its construction, and possibly from the tourist business it would attract afterward.

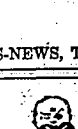

What has this to do with the great issue of the mid-twentieth century, free enterprise vs. state socialism? Nothing, really, but it appears to overshadow this in the eyes of at least 39 good men and true of the Weiser community.

Are they any different from the businessmen of Nampa? We doubt it. Ours would probably vote the same way if the same temptation were placed before them, though as it is they'd probably vote overwhelmingly the other way.

Here is spotlighted one of the greatest obstacles to retarding the march of state socialism, which will eventually throttle all private business and private liberty too unless halted. The average businessman is strong as horseradish for socialism if it will put money in his pocket now, and to - - - - with the future.—Nampa Free Press.

POT SHOTS

WHERE WERE YOU?

Where were you 10 years ago today? You'll find that question quite a few times during the course of the day and you'll hear lots of answers, especially from veterans of the Late Hate.

We can remember it quite vividly. We had a good, steady government job then. Twas over in Washington at a place called Ft. Lewis.

But where you happened to be on Dec. 7, 1941, isn't the most interesting thing about this anniversary. That happened TEN (10) years ago! Doesn't seem like so long ago, does it? Well, when you drove by that grade school Friday morning on your way to work, did you happen to notice a lot of little kids? Nearly all of them have been born since Dec. 7, 1941. To them, the Late Hate is just something they've heard Daddy and his friends talk about.

Or maybe you drove past a high school building this morning and saw a lot of teen-age youngsters. If a high school senior is 17 years old, he was in about the second grade when this Pearl Harbor business happened.

You're 10 years older now, if you'll pardon us for mentioning it.

IT'S PU-OLLUP

We didn't get to talk to her, but Mrs. Harry Nelson phoned in the pronunciation of that town in Washington, Puyallup. The note left on our desk says, ". . . you pronounce it Puollop, or maybe it's Pu-ollup, which sounds closer." Mrs. Nelson said she lived in Pu-ollup when she was a child.

There you are, "A Learner." For townslike that, you're likely to hear all sorts of pronunciations.

For instance, there was a woman passenger we talked with once on a train. She was quite talkative. She informed us she'd had lunch at Po-cat-aloh and was going to Seattle. See if you can figure out what she was talking about. We did—after asking her twice!

WARM CHRISTMAS

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stinrcon, who usually get their mail at Eden, aren't worrying about the cold weather. We got a couple of postcards from the Stingcons. The pictures on the cards feature oranges and dates.

He writes, "In Twin Falls you are 3,800 feet above sea level. We are 76 feet below sea level surrounded by 5,000 acres of date gardens. Hundreds of men and women, all ages, are picking, grading and packing dates for Christmas."

Yep, they're in California at a place called Coachella. California—that's where the weather features rain, fog, snow and other items along that line in spite of the California Chamber of Commerce.

Anyway, the air in Twin Falls is (brrrrr) nice and (brrrr) crisp!

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

LONDON—The international labor office is the socialist international. It has headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. It had 550 employes in 1950, and its appropriation from the United Nations for that year was $6,023,536.

Westbrook Pegler

The senate committee on expenditures in executive departments reported that the ILO alone spent $11,222,595 in the four years from 1947 through 1950, American taxpayers are stuck for most of the money.

This international socialist front is a successor to the Moscow communist international. It was adopted by the non-communist Marxian socialists of the United States, Great Britain and other countries outside the Soviet empire to create an international socialist world.

The United States is a participating member, without the knowledge of our citizens except a very few. Nevertheless, this socialist international enacts legislation which, by action of a simple majority of the United States senate present and voting, may become the American law binding on Americans in our own country.

The ILO originally was a section of the old League of Nations. The congressional directory says it is "controlled by representatives of labor, management and government."

This statement is two-thirds false. "Labor" is not represented at all. American unions are represented. They are all-powerful and their program is international socialism. But the entire membership of all the unions in the United States is only one-fourth of the entire employed laboring force and a large proportion of that union membership is compulsory, involuntary and captive.

Thus, these unioneers have no warrant from American "labor." The statement that representatives of "management" participate in the control of the ILO is a flat lie.

These "management" delegates have no voice in the decisions of the ILO. They are a fixed minority who make up a token fight to defeat the sweep toward a slightly diluted version of the Soviet version of Marx.

W. L. McGrath, president of the Williamson Heater company, Cincinnati furnace manufacturers, served for three years as adviser to Charles P. McCormick, Baltimore, the American voting delegate representing "employers."

In his report on this year's conference of the ILO, McGrath said the main purpose of the ILO was to give government more power over the lives of people everywhere, according to true socialist doctrine in any version, whether American, British or Muscovite.

He said the name of the international labor organization should be changed to International government organization, because it was promoting the cause of government rather than the cause of labor and was drafting uniform socialist laws to be binding on all member countries including the United States.

"Most European countries today are socialist," McGrath said, "and never have known freedom or the competitive system as it exists in the United States. Both government and labor delegates from such countries are unable to conceive of any desirable result except through governmental action.

"Asiatic and South American countries are accustomed to arbitrary governmental control. Government and labor delegates from such countries find the European prototypes in the assumption that nothing can be accomplished save through government regulation."

Delegates representing employers opposed this philosophy, but most of the ILO Geneva staff were socialists and the annual conferences were packed three-to-one in favor of socialism.

The "delegations" are made up of two government representatives, one union representative and one for the employers. The government delegates are almost all socialists. So are the unioneers.

So capitalism and the system of government prescribed by the constitution of the United States are hopelessly outnumbered. Moreover, the socialist staff in Geneva gets up the program of subjects for consideration for each conference and the supporting data, always with a view to promoting a socialist world.

The American "government" delegates this year were Sen. James M. Murray, Montana, a nominal Democrat; and Isador Lipschutz, a mysterious imigre from Belgium, who had a hard time getting naturalized and who was a delegate which spies on American citizens.

Murray is a strange faker whose political sympathies are far removed from the interests of the people of Montana.

His associations are conspiratorial, including not only his collaboration with Lipschutz, who uses Murray's frank to spread his propaganda at public expense, but his frankly acknowledged service to the CIO.

In September, he got a $10,000 "award" from the CIO, handed him by Philip Murray, the president, a handwashing old fraud with messianic delusions who once made a speech comparing himself to Jesus Christ and his paltry belly-aches to the passion of the savior.

Being a rich man, Senator Murray did not need this subsidy from this aggregation of unions. Frankly in his debt for political favors, and gave it away, but his wealth had not moved him to deter his son from taking a $21,000 legal fee from a hotel company seeking a loan from the RFC.

Just before he left for Geneva last summer, Senator Murray cooked up a speech in the interests of his friend Lipschutz and dumped it in the congressional record, thus making it eligible for free mailing with the explanation that he was in a hurry to get away and therefore couldn't take the time to deliver the speech.

The other American "government" delegate was Philip M. Kaiser, an assistant to Maurice Tobin, the secretary of labor, a poor, uninteligrated Bostonian who knows as much about labor as a pig knows about the sacramental.

Tobin threw in with the political enemies of constitutional government who include many enemies of his own party. He may now point with such pride as he can master to a long record of uninterrupted enjoyment of the abundant life on the public payroll.

So it was Tobin's assistant who went along with Murray of Montana to represent the "government" of the United States in Geneva and to prove McGrath's observation that these clambakes are stacked in favor of the mastery of the state over the people.

Pearl Harbor Attack Leader Farming Now

NARA, Japan, Dec. 7 (U) — A peace-loving, God-fearing Japanese farmer said today he lived his finest hour 10 years ago when he lead the surprise air attack on Pearl harbor.

He is Mitsuo Fuchida, former navy captain who commanded the fighters and torpedo bombers that roared down on the major U. S. Pacific naval base on "the day that shall live in infamy!"

Fuchida, 49 years old now and only recently taken off the purged lists — told in an interview how antagonism against America had built up since he enlisted in the navy in 1924.

Impressive Cause

"One of the tactical manuals I read in those days had this impressive clause: Armament is built up by a power for 10 years to use it up in a day," Fuchida said.

"The day came on Dec. 8, 1941 (Japan time).

"Flying at the top of a 60-plane formation, I sneaked to the approach to Pearl harbor but with head lifted high.

Father of 2

That was the Mitsuo Fuchida of 10 years ago. Now, living quietly with his wife and two children on a farm in Nara prefecture on western Honshu island, Fuchida has had time to reflect in the past six years of peace.

"I frankly admit my 'patriotism' was a narrow-minded one, not to be accepted by the peoples of the world," he said. "When Japan decided to ban rearmament, I supported it whole-heartedly.

"I am also now a christian. Last year I was baptized a Christian. Today I believe no war could be righteous and pave the way for peace."

New Industry for Valley Discussed

JEROME, Dec. 7—William Brede, Twin Falls, a representative of Swift and company, spoke to members of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon on a new industry for residents of Magic Valley. He said that a half-million dollar industry of taking fryers in the valley is underway and will be developed further within the next 10 years.

It could be developed in two or three years if backed by the businessmen of the district, he added.

A report on the banquet for Hunt residents was given by Clifford Peake, secretary.

It also was reported at the meeting that the chamber is providing clothing for Carolyn Monroe, winner of a nation recipe contest, to make the trip to New York City. The Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs, and Jaycees are assisting with clothing for Mrs. Monroe. The two left Friday morning.

Irven Young Paid Final Honor Here

Funeral services for Irven Andrew Young, resident here since 1945, were held Friday afternoon at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel. The Rev. Herman C. Rice was in charge assisted by the Rev. Edwin K. Grist.

A quartet of Mrs. Marjorie Pipplitt, Mrs. Avis Bennett, Clark Allison and Merland Edwards sang, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Myren.

Active pallbearers were Thomas Walton, N. O. Grimm, Marvin Ruhter, Reina DeVries, Frank Lore and Dan Daniels.

Honorary pallbearers were Earl Potter, Frank Stapley, Virgil Maxwell, Arthur F. Daw, Gordon Scott and W. L. Brackett.

Interment was made in Sunset Memorial park.

USAF Officer Checks NICE

LEWISTON, Dec. 7 (U)—Brig.-Gen. H. R. Maddux, air force officer from Washington, D. C., was to arrive here today to inspect facilities of now-defunct Northern Idaho College of Education.

The high-ranking officer's visit, announced to us several weeks ago by Sen. Herman Walker, R., Ida., indicates the air force is interested in NICE as a training center," said J. Harry Hughes, chamber secretary-manager.

Three air force officers and a civilian engineer inspected the campus and buildings in September. Their report to air force headquarters was not made public but they stated here that NICE was "adequate" as a location for a training center.

Efforts by a NICE committee of the chamber were launched early this year to gain a tenant for the college, which was closed after summer sessions in August for lack of state appropriations.

M'Arthur Backers Organize for West

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7 (U)—"Americans for MacArthur"—an organization sponsors said stands ready to support the general if he decides to run for president—has filed papers for incorporation in California.

The primary purpose of the organization, said one of its directors, R. A. McCannon, Los Angeles, is to promote the principles of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

McCannon announced that an organization rally, at which Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R., Wis., will speak, has been set for Dec. 13. Delegates from seven other western states, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon and Washington, have been invited to attend the meeting in Hollywood Legion stadium.

RICHFIELD, Dec. 6—Jimmy Rawson, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rawson, escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when he ran into the side of a car driven by Leo Swainston.

The boy and a companion walked out into the road from in front of a parked car. Although being driven slowly, Swainston's car skidded completely around on the snow when he applied the brakes. Jimmy was slightly bruised about the face and head in the accident.

Insurance Rates To Be Aired for City Radio Show

The manner in which fire insurance rates are set, how they are affected by city facilities, and the importance, functions and plans of the city fire department will be explained in "Let's Talk City Business' at 10 p. m. Wednesday over KTFI.

John B. Robertson, fire insurance agent, will be moderator. Others participating in the program will be A. F. Cross, city commissioner, and L. Z. Bartlett, fire chief.

The seven factors involved in setting fire insurance rates will be described. These include the water supply, counting for 34 per cent, and the character of the fire department, counting for 30 per cent.

Other factors are the fire prevention program, the fire alarm system, the structural condition of buildings, the building and zoning laws and the degree of cooperation between the police and fire departments.

Fire insurance ratings range from one to ten, with this city having a rating of six. In announcing the program, City Manager William R. Smith, said the local problem is to hold that rating.

Amended Divorce Complaint Filed

Macie Cassidy, Twin Falls, filed an amended complaint for divorce in district court Thursday against Michael D. Cassidy.

Mrs. Cassidy began the divorce proceedings Feb. 26 but no further action was taken when her husband promised to give up drinking, according to the amended complaint.

On Thursday's complaint she accuses him of drinking excessively and acts of violence. She asks the court to restore her former name, Macie Turner, and to enjoin her husband from molesting her.

The couple was married April 21, 1950. They have no children. Mrs. Cassidy claims separate ownership of a shoe repair shop, an automobile and other personal property. Her attorneys are Rayborn and Rayborn.

General Says Use of Atomic Artillery Near

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins said last night the United States has developed atomic artillery and he indicated such weapons may be ready for combat use in the "not too distant" future.

The army's chief of staff said atomic weapons will not revolutionize ground warfare but they will "greatly enhance the power of defense" and be of greater value in defense than in attack.

Making Plans

Collins added the army already is making plans for the day when atomic artillery and guided missile battalions will replace some of the conventional heavy artillery.

Collins made these statements in a radio recording for the Mutual Broadcasting system's "reporters' roundup." He also said:

1. He still believes there will be an armistice in Korea.

2. With an armistice, the withdrawal of American troops from Korea will depend largely on any political agreements reached between the reds and the allies.

More Pressure

3. If truce talks fail it is possible the allies will bring greater sea and air pressure against red China.

4. The United Nations' defense line in Korea is so strong that it will hold "under any foreseeable development that is likely to occur."

5. Alaskan defenses are strong enough to hold against Soviet attack.

6. If the United States had not gone into Korea to meet "naked aggression" then the United Nations would be "deader than a dodo."

Sky Giants Wind Up Long Flight

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7 (U) — Six B-36 sky giants, designed to deliver the atom bomb more than 10,000 miles, returned to home base yesterday after a non-stop training flight to Africa.

They came back to Carswell air force base from one of several supersecret American air force bases being built around the world for global defense. The trip was about 4,984 miles each way.

It was the first time the big fellows had landed at the new field at Sidi Slimane, French Morocco, according to Maj. Leo A. Proctor, intelligence officer of Southbridge, Mass.

It was the second flight across the Atlantic for the strategic air command planes. They flew to England last Jan. 12 and returned Jan. 21.

Taft Believes He Will Beat Ike; Warren

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7 (U—U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft said last night he thinks he can beat Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower if the general decides to seek the Republican nomination for President next year.

Taft feels confident also that he can defeat Gov. Earl Warren, California, who like Taft has announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination for President.

Rally Slated

The Ohio Republican was interviewed by a newsman when he arrived here by plane for a Taft rally today.

"Do you think you can beat General Eisenhower if he runs?" was one of the first questions.

"Oh, yes, I was very confident of that from the beginning," Taft replied.

"How about the rest of the field?" he was asked.

"Oh, yes," Taft repeated.

Asked About Truman

He then was asked if he thought President Truman would be the Democratic nominee in view of the widening scandals of his administration.

"I wouldn't guess on Truman."

The Ohioan said he thought the internal revenue bureau scandals will have an effect on the presidential race because of the lack of confidence in the administration.

"Most people thought the internal revenue department, at least was honest," he said.

Trucker Fined

Using private truck licenses on a vehicle used for commercial hauling resulted in a $25 fine for Naomi Dickey, route 2, Blackfoot. She pleaded guilty Thursday in justice court here.

Charles E. Staten, Burley, was driving the truck when the citation was issued Wednesday at the Hollister port of entry station.

Threats Seen On Northwest Wheat Export

PENDLETON, Ore., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Pacific northwest's booming export wheat market could collapse if congress decides not to renew its subsidy program for foreign countries, an agriculture official warned.

Gordon P. Boals, head of the grain division in the agriculture department, told the Oregon Wheat Growers league convention the present export program—now absorbing the bulk of the northwest crop — will come up for renewal next July 31.

Congress Acting

"Congress is asking questions about government expenditures, and the wheat agreement subsidy stands out like a big item," he said. He estimated the subsidy cost at $150,000,000 a year.

He estimated 30 per cent of the domestic wheat crop now was going into export trade.

Food Faddists Hit

Phil Wolk, Walla Walla miller, spoke of what he called "food faddists," and said they were hurting consumption of some grain by attacking white bread and flour as harmful to the body.

He said the food and drug administration was investigating these faddists and their attempt to sell "health foods" through such devices as asserting white bread "causes everything from cancer to sterility."

Reasons Outlined for Higher Cost of Hospital Care; Labor Is Largest Item

(Editor's note: This is the first of three articles prepared by J. C. McGilvray, administrator of Magic Valley Memorial hospital, to explain costs of hospitalization.)

It is human nature to resent hospital and doctor bills. Most of us feel that health is our right. But health is an accident which should not have happened to us—so we resent paying for it.

Then again we always like to see something for our money. There is much more enjoyment in laying down money for a new automobile than there is in paying the monthly repair bills on our old one. The same feeling is true about our hospital bills. We seem to be paying in order to get back something we already had.

But why are hospital costs high? There are two main reasons and one should be obvious. It is that living costs have risen proportionately. Hospital rates are 150 per cent over 1939 levels; but the cost of labor is up 215 per cent over the same period and labor represents 65 per cent of the hospital budget.

If we could operate the hospital like a business house with regular hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. your hospital bills would be just half of what you pay today. But nobody can regulate illness in that way. So the hospital has to employ sufficient people to work on three eight-hour shifts each day and it can never close down for Christmas or Thanksgiving. That is why your hospital has two employes for every patient.

The second reason for higher costs is that it is necessary to use more labor in the hospitals today than was necessary 10 years ago. There has been a rapid advance in the science of medicine and today's hospital is full of new equipment which requires trained technicians to handle it. But that is to your advantage because you are now paying for scientific diagnosis that has replaced a lot of guess work of an earlier day.

Some years ago most medications were given by mouth. It was simple for the nurse to hand the patient a pill. Today, increasingly, we must use a hypodermic which takes much more time.

The average patient forgets he is getting considerably more for his money than bed and board. Back of the wards and private rooms lies an intricate and costly machinery of laboratories, operating rooms and therapeutic equipment. Back of this is the medical "know how" that aids in diagnosis of his illness, speeds his recovery and, in emergency, may be the difference between life and death.

In your Magic Valley Memorial hospital 40 per cent of the floor space is taken up by services which the average patient rarely sees, but which are absolutely necessary to his recovery. So hospital costs are something like an iceberg because most of them are hidden from view.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"We live in the city and my husband's mother lives in the country. It is a great treat for our boy, eight years old now, to go to his grandmother's place on week-ends, and his father wants him to go. Says it is good for him.

"I am not so sure. At home I watch what he eats, see that he gets milk and all that, and I am strict about his bedtime. When he goes to the farm he does what he likes. If he doesn't get to bed before 9 it is all right with his grandparents. When he gets back home I have to start all over again to train him."

Home training that is wiped out by a week-end did not have deep roots. Children adjust themselves to conditions very easily. No doubt he stays up later when he gets to grandma's. He's on a holiday and a change of routine is part of the holiday spirit to him. That is to be expected.

Should a child make a prolonged visit to relatives it would be well to talk over the fundamental routines of life so that they are understood and accepted by the hosts. Few relatives are so far removed from family habit as to change radically basic routine for a visiting child.

If the hosts are told what time the child is in the habit of going to bed, what his diet is, and what he is not to have added to it, the radio programs and the television sessions he enjoys at home, they will fall in line with the program and come very close to seeing it through. Most people do. If there is doubt about some not doing so, why, send the child at all?

Children can stand a bit of change in environment, without hurt, if they are happy. Sometimes, indeed, a change of scene and of the people who take care of them are beneficial in many ways. Good habits can be formed in grandma's house, too. So long as the fundamentals of a healthy routine are observed there is little to worry about.

Home family jealousy lifts its ugly head in such matters. That is bad for the families and especially so for the children. When they are loved by two families, they are twice blessed. When they are shared between the families they have enriched opportunities. They learn what they would not otherwise learn because their world has been enlarged and more experiences are granted them in consequence.

If both families think more of giving what is good to the children and less of the sacrifices they are making in sending or receiving them, everybody will be happier, the children particularly so.

Many things in a child's development are dependent on how a mother talks to him as a baby. There is a right way and a wrong way. Dr. Patri points out in his leaflet, "Talk to Baby." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

MORE COFFEE FLAVOR IN EVERY POUND OF M·J·B

"When I saw M.J.B compared point for point with other best-selling coffees, I was really amazed at the difference. It's easy to see why you can't make a bad cup of M.J.B!"

Mrs John Geraghty
Alameda, California

When Mrs. Geraghty saw M.J.B compared with other best-selling coffees, she discovered a dramatic difference: M.J.B's masterful blend of the finest high-grown coffees is not roasted in big batches; it's sent through ovens in a thin, steady stream, so each bean is browned to its mellow best.

And look at this difference! Every particle of M.J.B is almost exactly the same size. All the wonderful flavor you pay for is released evenly, completely. No large lumps to imprison flavor. No flinty chaff. And there is no excessive coffee dust to turn bitter and muddy in your coffee cup.

Taste the difference... the very real difference that comes from the finest of coffees roasted superbly ... and M.J.B's extra full-flavor grinds. You get more real flavor, in every pound of M.J.B, yet it costs no more than ordinary coffees. You can't make a bad cup of M.J.B!

No wonder you can't make a bad cup of M·J·B!

By BOB GILLIAM

Basketball season is upon us and there is no other time of the year when high school coaches in search of the woods get more troubles stem from well-meaning parents and fans who have ideas on how to build a team and how to win in the world of sports. They shake their heads, lament, think their advice and thoughts and so on when they let their coach handle the situation like he wanted.

Gilliam

Younger coaches, who have not yet developed thick skins, these jibes are irritating and hurt.

The thing that parents and fans probably don't realize is that by hurling a team in more than one ear when they let their coach be coaching," no matter what it may be, get further thoughts.

Coach handles a team in the gym another may and there are bound to be a lot of different ideas and methods on the game. In the end, however, all reach the same objective, a high school, is the development of the bodies and the teaching of sportsmanship.

Jack McCloy, former Kimberly and high school coach and recreation leader in Twin Falls summer, writes from Idaho, where he is working on his master's degree from Arizona State.

Jack was a prominent figure in Magic Valley high school sports for many years before he resigned last year to go to Kimberly.

Apparently he has missed the high school sports scene here, he sends greetings and regards to Harold Brown and Dewey Peterson at Twin Falls; Bob Hickey, Ted Hanks, Heyburn; Gerald Dellinger, Jerome.

Arizona's tussle between one Indians and the Wendell Cagers in Jerome has caused as much excitement among basketball fans as the start of a district tournament.

Several people want to see the winner of the finest college game of the last few years, one between Bob—Kurland, the 7-foot center for Phillips, is one opinion of all time.

Probably will be standing room only in the Jerome gymnasium for the contest.

Five Western Men Gain Recognition On '51 Dream Team

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Dick Kazmaier, the phenomenal triple-threat star of Princeton, heads the Associated Press All-America football team for 1951, repeating his 1950 honors. He leads a spectacular backfield other members of which are Larry Isbell, Baylor, Hugh McElhenny, Washington, and Hank Lauricella, Tennessee.

Three others with Kazmaier are repeaters from the 1950 All-America: Bob Ward, Maryland, offensive guard; Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma, defensive tackle, and Les Richter, California, linebacker.

Tennessee and Michigan State, the number one and two teams of the land, each won two places on the squad.

This is the team:

Offense

Ends—Bill McColl, Stanford, and Bob Carey, Michigan State.

Tackles—Bob Yanoff, Notre Dame, and Don Coleman, Michigan State.

Guards—Bob Ward, Maryland, and Marvin Matuszak, Tulsa.

Center—Doug Mosely, Kentucky.

Backs—Dick Kazmaier, Princeton; Hank Lauricella, Tennessee; Hugh McElhenny, Washington; Larry Isbell, Baylor.

Defense

Ends—Pat O'Donahue, Wisconsin, and Dewey McConnell, Wyoming.

Tackles—Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma, and Pug Pearman, Tennessee.

Guards—Ray Beck, Georgia Tech, and Joe Palumbo, Virginia.

Linebackers—Keith Flowers, Texas Christian, and Les Richter, California.

Backs—Bobby Dillon, Texas; Al Brosky, Illinois; Ollie Matson, San Francisco.

The offensive and defensive All-America team takes into account the complete season's games through Dec. 1 and was selected in consultation with a board of 11 newspapermen representing every section of the nation. Hundreds of writers and sportscasters served as advisers.

The 1951 football season was marked by three developments:

1. An increase in offense so great not a team went unscored on. Little New Haven State Teachers, which allowed 20 points, had the best defensive record.

2. Concern as to whether football overemphasis has endangered the sport. A committee of 10 college presidents is tackling the problem. There is a strong desire to apply remedies before anything like the basketball scandal spreads to football.

3. An elaborate experimental television program by the National Collegiate Athletic Association was tested in an effort to answer the problem of how to regulate TV's effect on gate receipts.

The new heights of offense can be judged by this list of points scored against the nations top 10 teams, the first six of which went undefeated: Tennessee 86; Michigan State 14; Maryland 52; Illinois 76; Georgia Tech 76; Princeton 82; Stanford 141; Wisconsin 83; Baylor 99; Oklahoma 58.

Tennessee's great powerhouse placed Lauricella in the first of offensive backfield, Pug Pearman as defensive tackle on the first team, and Ted Daffer, a defensive guard on the first team last year in the same spot on the second team.

Michigan State is represented by Bob Carey at end and Don Coleman at tackle on the first offensive team.

Maryland, the number three team, has Ward on the first team, and the Modzelewski brothers on the second—Ed in the backfield and Dick at defensive tackle.

With Army in temporary eclipse as a gridiron power due to the cribbing dismissals, the east is represented only by Kazmaier. The south, southeast, and southwest landed nine men on the team, the middle west seven, and the far west five.

It was significant that of the four linebackers on the first two teams, three came from the west—Richter, California, on the first team and Pat Cannamela, Southern California, and Don Sodman of UCLA on the second. Only Keith Flowers of TCU was able to break the California monopoly in this field.

John Bright, Texas, deserves special mention. Playing a schedule that never tested him, and injured toward the end of the season in a Spectacular Incident that led to Drake's withdrawal from the Missouri Valley conference, Bright made a three year record in total offense of 5,903 yards.

Others worthy of note include Steve Wadiak, South Carolina; Gil Bocetti, Washington and Lee; Dunby Goode, Hardin-Simmons; Frank Gifford, Southern California; Buck McPhail, Oklahoma; Fred Benners, SMU; Bill Hair, Clemson; Paul Giel, Minnesota; Mitch Price, Columbia; Tobin Costia, Wisconsin; Jack Scarbath, Maryland, Al Dorow, Michigan State; Bill Reichardt, Iowa, and Gary Kerkorian, Stanford.

Second Team Offensive

Ends—Tom McCann, Holy Cross; Bill Howton, Rice.

Tackles—Oliver Spencer, Kansas; Bob Wereckle, Vanderbilt.

Guards—Jim Donarski, Arizona; Norm Manoogian, Stanford.

Center—Dick Hightower, SMU.

Backs—Ed Modzelewski, Maryland; Vito Parilli, Kentucky; Bill Wade, Vanderbilt; John Karras, Illinois.

Second Team Defensive

Ends—Leo Sugar, Purdue; Eddie Bell, Pennsylvania.

Tackles—Jerry Price, Texas Tech; Dick Modzelewski, Maryland.

Guards—Ted Daffer, Tennessee; Nil Athey, Baylor.

Linebackers — Pat Cannamela, Southern California; Don Moomaw, UCLA.

Backs—Vic Janowicz, Ohio State; Veryl Switzern, Kansas State; Jim Dooley, Miami.

Jerome Player Given Honor

In addition to the 44 men singled out for All-America mention by the Associated Press on first or second defensive or offensive teams, several players were given honorable mention.

Included were Dick Bubak, Jerome, sophomore end at the University of Utah, who also was placed on the first string all Skyline conference team. Many feel Bubak is headed for certain first string All-America honors by the time he is a senior.

Others receiving honorable mention for All-America were two Idaho State college players, Eddie Samera, offensive and defensive guard, and Lamont Jones, defensive end.

No players from the University of Idaho were given honorable mention.

Writers Back Spring Drills For Football

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Spring football practice should be continued in the opinion of the majority of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters who voted in the Associated Press' end-of-the-season poll.

However, almost half of those who think that spring practice should be kept before that some sort of limitation should be placed on it. Of the 110 replies to the questionnaire, 74 thought spring practice should go on, while 36 voted for its abolishment. Of the 74, 36 were of the opinion that it should be regulated.

Most of those who went along with spring practice thought its elimination would not help any deemphasis program or act to cure any of college football's ills. The main reason for those who want it eliminated is that it interferes with other sports and places too much stress on the gridiron.

Said one southwest sports editor: "It should be limited to not more than three weeks. Only sophomores and non-lettermen should be allowed to participate and no intersquad games should be permitted."

"Spring practice should be left alone because it will exist no matter what steps are taken. If it is ruled out, there will be a hectic coincidental appearance of football players on practice fields during the spring and coaches will just happen along."

There was a definite tendency to put the blame on the colleges themselves instead of spring practice by those who advocated its continuation.

"Eliminating it is no cure," said one. "The only remedy is for college presidents to clean up their respective schools."

Richfield Cagers Defeat Shoshone

RICHFIELD, Dec. 7—The Richfield Panthers held off a late Shoshone surge to defeat the Indians 35-34 in a thrilling early-season contest. It marked the first time in several years Richfield has defeated Shoshone on the basketball court.

Coach Dick Warburton's Richfield team led most of the way, taking a 9-6 first quarter lead and a 19-12 margin at the half. It was 28-25 going into the final frame of the nip and tuck game.

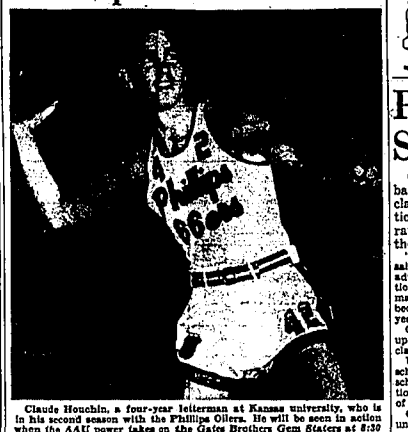

Hubsmith led Richfield's scoring with 11 points. Young was high for Shoshone with 14.

Gem Staters Hope to Stop Oilers' Streak

JEROME, Dec. 7—One of the greatest basketball teams in the nation, the powerful Phillips 66 Oilers, hopes to continue its current winning streak here at 8:30 p.m. Saturday when it takes on the Gates Brothers Gem Staters, Wendell, Idaho AAU champions.

The Gem Staters tuned up for the game Thursday night by whipping Utah State 71-48 in a game played in Burley. The team fielded by the Utags was made up of varsity and junior varsity players, although the Logan school had agreed to play its varsity.

Several of the nation's biggest basketball names of the past five years fill out the ranks of the Oilers, the big power in AAU basketball circles.

On the other hand, the Gem Staters are composed of top players from area colleges who had a remarkable record in taking on all comers for the past two seasons.

Leading players for the Gem Staters include Murray Satterfield, an All-America at the University of Utah; Roy Irons, varsity player for both the University of Idaho and Oklahoma; George Kiel, all-conference player at Utah; Bob Sherman, former Idaho State star; Vern Ellis, first string player for the University of Nevada; George Powell, Idaho, and Jim Wallace and Jay Waite, all-conference players at the Southern Idaho College of Education.

Satterfield, Powell, Wallace, Sherman and Waite also are Magic Valley high school coaches.

Bob Kurland, seven foot center and two-time All-America at Oklahoma A. and M. is the main attraction for the Oilers. He also is a member of the all-time All-America and the basketball hall of fame.

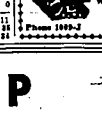

Coaching the squad is J. B. "Cab" Renick, who is in his fourth year at the helm of the team. In his first three seasons with the Oilers, his squad won 153 games and lost nine. He was captain of the 1948 U. S. Olympic team.

Irons led the Gem Staters to their victory over Utah State by pouring 22 points through the basket. Satterfield followed with 17 points.

Brown was the top man for the Utags with 10 points. Jack Clark, Burley, a starter for Utah State, was held to seven points.

Western Cage Teams Regain Pre-War Form

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—College basketball in the west and southwest, after several lean years, is expected to regain its pre-war prominence and rank on an equal footing with other sections of the country.

There is sure to be a good number of fine teams west of the Mississippi. The Pacific Coast league boasts at least four well-rounded quintets in Washington, Stanford, Southern California and UCLA. Wyoming, Denver, Brigham Young and Utah in the Rocky mountain area; Texas Christian and Arkansas in the Southwest and Arizona in the Border conference all have exceptional units. Santa Clara and San Francisco are the best among the independents.

Washington definitely rates as the top team in the Pacific Coast conference's northern division, with Stanford getting the nod over USC and UCLA in the southern division. Defending champion Washington (14-5), with two aces in Frank Greinesss and Bob Houbregs, probably is the best on the coast.

The Huskies also have come up with Dean Parsons, a promising 6-7 frosh.

Stanford, with Ed Tucker, Jim Walsh and Jim Ramstead, all very fine courtmen, rates next. USC's 6-1 guard, Ken Flower is one of the best on the coast. If Al Lamont, 6-5 center, recovers from a knee operation, the Trojans might take it all.

The Skyline race should be a rough one with Wyoming, defending champion Brigham Young, Utah and Denver engaged in a merry four-way battle. Wyoming is accorded a slight edge.

TOUGH POLICY ASKED

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Big 10, starting an important winter business meeting, heard Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson demand a tougher athletic policy.

Pacific Coast League Wins First Step in Fight to Escape Majors

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Pacific Coast drove home an opening wedge in its long battle to become a third major league Thursday when the minor leagues set up a new "open" classification by unanimous vote. If the major leagues also approve the action of the national association of minor leagues, the Pacific Coast league will formally apply for "open" rank with partial relief from the draft in 1952.

"We meet all the requirements," said Leslie O'Connor, Coast league adviser. "There seems to be no question about this being passed by the majors. It's the opening wedge to becoming a major in from five to 10 years."

Commissioner Ford Frick summed up the minors' action on the open classification as a "very wise thing."

Unable to agree on a new high school rule governing the time schoolboys the minors deferred action until Friday on a compromise of three proposals.

Commissioner Ford Frick made an unusual appearance before the golden jubilee convention to urge the minors to adopt some version of a high school rule. He said the minors must not offend the general public by letting the current rule expire Dec. 31 without adopting a new one.

In a day jammed with action after a week-long lull, the minors also voted to rule out the 24-hour recall of optioned players by major league clubs.

If the majors follow through next Monday and pass this amendment—considered unlikely by many baseball men—clubs no longer would be able to shuttle players from the majors to minors on 24-hour recall. Once sent down the player must remain for the entire minor league season including playoffs.

This matter is closely tied in with an amendment to cut player limits—passed at the meeting. Like all other major-minor matters, this is subject to approval by the majors at their joint meeting in New York Monday. Major league clubs would cut from 25 to 23 men and all class limits, except B, would be sliced.

It was the feeling of some big league clubs, in private conversation, that they could not afford to take a chance on cutting to 22 and also restrict themselves to no 24-hour recall on optioned players. As a result both proposals may be defeated Monday.

Boise Builds High-Scoring Hoop Squad

BOISE, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Boise high school Braves will have one of the hottest shooting and best defensive teams in the Big Six conference, but lack the height to be a title threat.

That's how Coach Ron Runyan sums up his Boise club, which opened its season with an impressive 56-18 rout over Emmett.

Boise has only one letterman back from last year's squad — six-foot Mac Madsen, who will be used both at forward and guard.

Runyan said he has seven good players, but "we're not too deep after the first seven."

"We have about as good a shooting and ball handling club as I've ever seen, but they lack the one man with height to control the backboards," Runyan said. "We'll be woefully weak on the boards against a big pivot man."

However, he said Boise will have a strong defensive club, but will fall down against Caldwell with its six-foot, six-inch Ron Sears and Idaho Falls with six-foot, five-inch Joe Lockyer.

Runyan predicts a "wide-open" conference race with the winner getting beat at least twice during the league season.

He ranks Caldwell as the team to beat with Idaho Falls second and Nampa third. He said Boise, Pocatello and Twin Falls would fight it out for the final three spots.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Wheat smashed out new high prices for nearly four years on the board of trade today. The rest of the market swirled up with the bread cereal.

More export business and a growing feeling that not much wheat is left to export under the relatively low prices of the international wheat agreement created part of the buying.

Wheat closed ½-1⅛ higher, December 2.48⅝-¾; corn ⅝-1⅛ higher, December 1.91⅞-1.92; oats unchanged to ½ higher, December 99⅝; rye (new style) 3¼-4½ higher, December 2.12⅝.

Expert Urges Grazing Land Sale or Lease

PORTLAND, Dec. 7 (AP)—Federal grazing lands should be sold to western stockmen or leased on a long-term basis, Elroy Nelson, University of Utah business and research director, said yesterday.

He told the National Wool Growers association convention that rules should be drawn up by the federal government giving sheepmen and cattlemen considerate treatment and reasonable freedom from interference.

Own Over Half

Nelson, appearing as a public interest speaker, said the federal government owns more than half the land in 11 western states, and said much of this is suitable only for grazing.

Sales or long-term leasing of this land would encourage land improvements, re-seeding, and would strengthen the tax base, he said.

Nelson also said no new federal mining laws are needed, but suggested that moratoriums on mining work be discontinued. He said miners should be forced to develop their properties to hold them.

Objects to Sale

Marion Clawson, director of the bureau of land management, and C. M. Granger, forest service assistant chief, answered that long-term leases or sales might be ob*jectionable on many tracts.*

"The possibility of using the same tract of land at the same time for two or more uses is in fact one of the major reasons for federal ownership of land," Clawson said.

He said both logging and grazing could be carried on while land is under federal management.

Threat Cited

H. E. Kemper, bureau of animal industry inspector at Albuquerque, N. M., said sheep scab is a threat to the wool growing industry. He reported experiments in the use of a new dipping solution, benzene hexachloride, which kills adult mites and eggs.

In resolutions, the wool growers opposed price controls and subsidies and any attempt of "government officials to formulate or participate in the formation of any policy or program for agriculture."

Sound Tariff

But the growers called for a "sound tariff policy" for the "protection of American industry."

Other resolutions:

Favored a federal constitutional amendment limiting taxation to 25 per cent of income in peacetime; opposed proposed valley authorities; opposed transfer to the forest service of federal lands now controlled by the bureau of land management; asked congress for $2,000,000 for use by the bureau of land management to control and eradicate halogeton, a plant poisonous to livestock; proposed a forest service program to brush burning, brush removal, reseeding and big game control "to permit more grazing by livestock on national forests. . ."

The balloons are inflated with oversized vacuum cleaners which produce a great volume of air at low pressure. Two blowers can inflate Noah's Ark in 30 minutes. After the parade the balloons are folded up. Noah's Ark is packed in a box three by four by five feet.

Plan of Attack Was Mistake, Admiral Says

By EARNEST HOBERECHT

TOKYO, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—The Japanese admiral who planned the Pearl harbor attack 10 years ago said today he realized later he had picked the wrong targets.

"The purpose was to destroy the fleet," Read Adm. Sadatoshi Tomioka said in an exclusive interview. "We realized later that we should have concentrated on the oil tanks and naval shore facilities."

He also said the attack was not planned as a surprise, and he regretted it had turned out that way.

Ultimatum First

The original idea, he said, was that an ultimatum was to be delivered in Washington with the attack taking place an hour later. The ultimatum was delayed, and the attack became a surprise.

"I feel haunted by the ghosts of the Americans who died at Pearl harbor," he added. "I regret the unhappy circumstances which acted to make the attack a surprise."

Tomioka said the assault was planned for a Sunday because the largest number of U. S. warships normally concentrated at Pearl harbor over the week-ends. He said the Japanese had no intention of trying to capture Hawaii.

Fleet Held Interest

"If the fleet had been elsewhere we would have attacked in there," he said. "We were more interested in the U. S. fleet than Pearl harbor."

The admiral was chief of the operations section of the Japanese imperial headquarters 10 years ago and in that job he planned the assault.

Tomioka said Japanese diplomats in Washington were not informed of the contemplated assault and delays by the Japanese embassy there in decoding an ultimatum from Tokyo caused the attack to be a surprise.

It will be presented at the Carey LDS church on Tuesday, at Gooding Wednesday, Hailey, Thursday, and Jerome, Friday.

Vivian Davenport, Gooding, Stake music chairman, reports that choir members have practiced for the Christmas event the last three months. They have come from Fairfield, Jerome, Hagerman, Gooding and Wendell to participate.

Plans for U. of I. Building Changed

BOISE, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—A change order in the University of Idaho's new home economics building construction plans was approved late yesterday by the state board of examiners.

State Auditor N. P. Nielson said the new authorization would make to total cost $361,687, as compared with the original contract of $358,850. However, there was an addition of $5,277 and a deduction of $2,056 prior to the latest change order.

SHOSHONE, Dec. 7—Water users census was taken in the commercial area of the city Wednesday afternoon and will be compiled, along with the residential census, at the next meeting of the city planning board.

Mayor Myrtle Burdett and Mrs. Harriet Thorne, commission member, were assisted in the work by Bert Terry, city water superintendent.

Girl Will Receive Delayed Benefits

CALDWELL, Dec. 7 (U.P.) — Ten years ago Samuel M. Gantner was killed while directing his anti-aircraft gun crew against the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl harbor.

And today his daughter, Janice May Gantner, 12, Caldwell, held her daughter's social security card, issued a decade after her father's death.

Gantner, a crewman on the battleship Nevada, never had worked under social security. However, under the new federal law he was entitled to coverage for his navy service. His daughter will receive nearly $3,000 in social security benefits.

A destroyer was christened in Gantner's honor by his widow in 1943.

Takes Office

WENDELL, Dec. 7—Probate Judge J. P. Gossett swore in Elmer Johnson as a member of the Wendell rural fire district for a four-year term at a meeting Wednesday evening at the fire station. Johnson is a new member taking the place of Ivan Nielson. Others on the board are A. J. Dykstra and Clair King.

Fire Chief Elmer Parr reported on fires during November and on the use of the resuscitator. The department will purchase an air pack and, with the purchase of one by the city, the department will have two packs to be used by firemen for safe entrance into smoke filled rooms.

Tax Panel Slates Ruling Discussion

BOISE, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—The state tax commission will meet in Boise Dec. 13 to 15.

One of the principal topics of discussion will be the commission's authority and policy in view of the state supreme court decision ruling that the commission has no authority to interfere with equalization of taxes within a county.

One attorney said the opinion will take the "teeth" out of the tax commission's duties.

PLEASURE-PACKED PROGRAM PLANNED FOR FARM FAMILIES

To Be Guests of Dee Pace Sales Co., Local John Deere Implement Dealer On John Deere Day, Thursday, Dec. 13

No less than six brand-new movies are on the program for the annual John Deere day show to be held for farmers and their families on Thursday this week, at the St. Edwards School, according to Dee Pace, local John Deere Dealer and sponsor of the affair.

Farmers who have not received their tickets, reminds Mr. Pace, may obtain them by calling for them at the store, 240 Addison Avenue West.

The feature picture, "Gallahad Jones," features Richard Crane, Majorie Lord, Elizabeth Patterson, Jonathan Hale, Ed Brophy, and four other Hollywood personalities.

The story centers around a farmers son, recently graduated from law school, who thwarts the efforts of a big-time crook to profit from his political connections. It is a present day problem picture with a moral and plenty of laughs.

Leading the pack of five more applause-winning films is "The Big Payoff," featuring Tom Gordon who, along with his typical American family, has won so many friends in previous John Deere pictures. The four films that complete the parade of entertainment offer something new and different in dealing with subjects close to the hearts of today's farmers.

"Those who attend this year's John Deere Day," says Mr. Pace, "have a real treat in store for them, a day so packed with entertainment for the entire family that they will remember it with pleasure for months to come. Don't miss it! Get your tickets on your very next trip to town!"—Adv.
